Alex Dovington is a man with a secret. The internationally famous jazz musician never learned to read. If the world—and his legions of fans—knew, it would be a disaster. When he learns Cara Williams has been hired to teach him, he is reluctant to follow the plan. The sultry teacher will be given only three days to teach the music legend everything she knows. But the instructor becomes the student when Alex turns their mountaintop classroom into a sensual duet of passion.

Cara will do anything to keep the doors of her Harlem literacy center open. Even tutor the scandalously handsome saxophone player at his romantic weekend retreat. Alex may be schooling her in the fine art of lovemaking, but Cara has her own secret—one that could tear them apart forever....

Editorial Review

Review

4 1/2 stars RT (Romantic Times) Book Review for LESSON IN ROMANCE:

A completely original storyline with well-rounded characters, this novel blends themes of unrequited passion and letting go of the past to perfection.

Finalist 2013 Emma Awards "Debut Author of the Year"

2012 Romantic Times Reviewers' Choice Awards Double-Finalist (First Series Romance and Kimani Romance)

From the Author

What if you couldn't read the words on this page, a letter from your child or husband, or a restaurant menu? Those are the sobering questions I asked myself one day and what drove me to write Lesson in Romance, my debut novel.

I am always crushing on hot jazz musicians, so Alex is the culmination of my dreams. Although he can't read, the notes he plays on his saxophone and the touch of his hands speak only pleasure. His sexy looks and vulnerability are irresistible to Cara who's on a mission to help end illiteracy in her Harlem community. She's a woman I can admire. Along with the A-B-C's, she's teaching Alex how to trust and love again.

Learning to love, while learning to read. Now that's one lesson I wouldn't want to miss.

I hope you enjoy reading Lesson in Romance!
